AUTHENTIC ASIAN FLAVOURS BROUGHT TO YOU, BY US.

World foods are here to stay – and authenticity is key. Total world foods have grown from being in a corner of the supermarket to a mainstream fixture. Total category sales will reach £2.3bn in 2025 (Mintel, 2020) – growing at 15%.

Part of this growth is coming from new cuisines, like Vietnamese and Malaysian as shoppers become more adventurous in the cuisines they explore.

Irrespective of where the World Food comes from, what is important to the shopper is authenticity, with 75% of consumers saying they like the world cuisines they eat at home to be as authentic as possible.

EXPLORE THE TASTES OF AMERICA!

With a heritage dating back to 1918, Frank's RedHot sauces are as authentic as they get – rumour has it that Frank's was the secret ingredient used in the first ever Buffalo Wings, developed in Buffalo, New York.

French's, itself dating back to 1904 is America's #1 mustard brand. The iconic yellow squeeze bottle has been used on burgers, hot dogs and sandwich stacks for over a century.

Also a BBQ icon, they say Mississippi Barbecue Sauce is a blend of the sweetness of Chicago, the mellow tang of Memphis and the spice of New Orleans.

EVERYTHING IS BIGGER IN TEXAS

Stubb's is America's #1 premium BBQ sauce, and comes from Texas – the culinary home of the BBQ movement. C.B."Stubb" Stubblefield opened his first restaurant in 1968 and the legendary sauce is now available for all to sample.

Finally, where there is Colgin Liquid Smoke, there is flavour! Brushed on steaks, chicken or hamburgers – Colgin gives an immediate smokey flavour.

THE NATION'S #1 GHERKINS

Since their introduction to the UK in the 1940s, Mrs Elswood gherkins have built a reputation to become the UK's favourite brand of gherkins (Kantar, 2021).

There are many things special about Mrs Elswood, from the unique pickling process, where cucumbers are pickled in the jars they are sold in (not in large barrels, how most gherkins are pickled) – to the green labels and red ribbons that adorn every jar of Mrs Elswood.

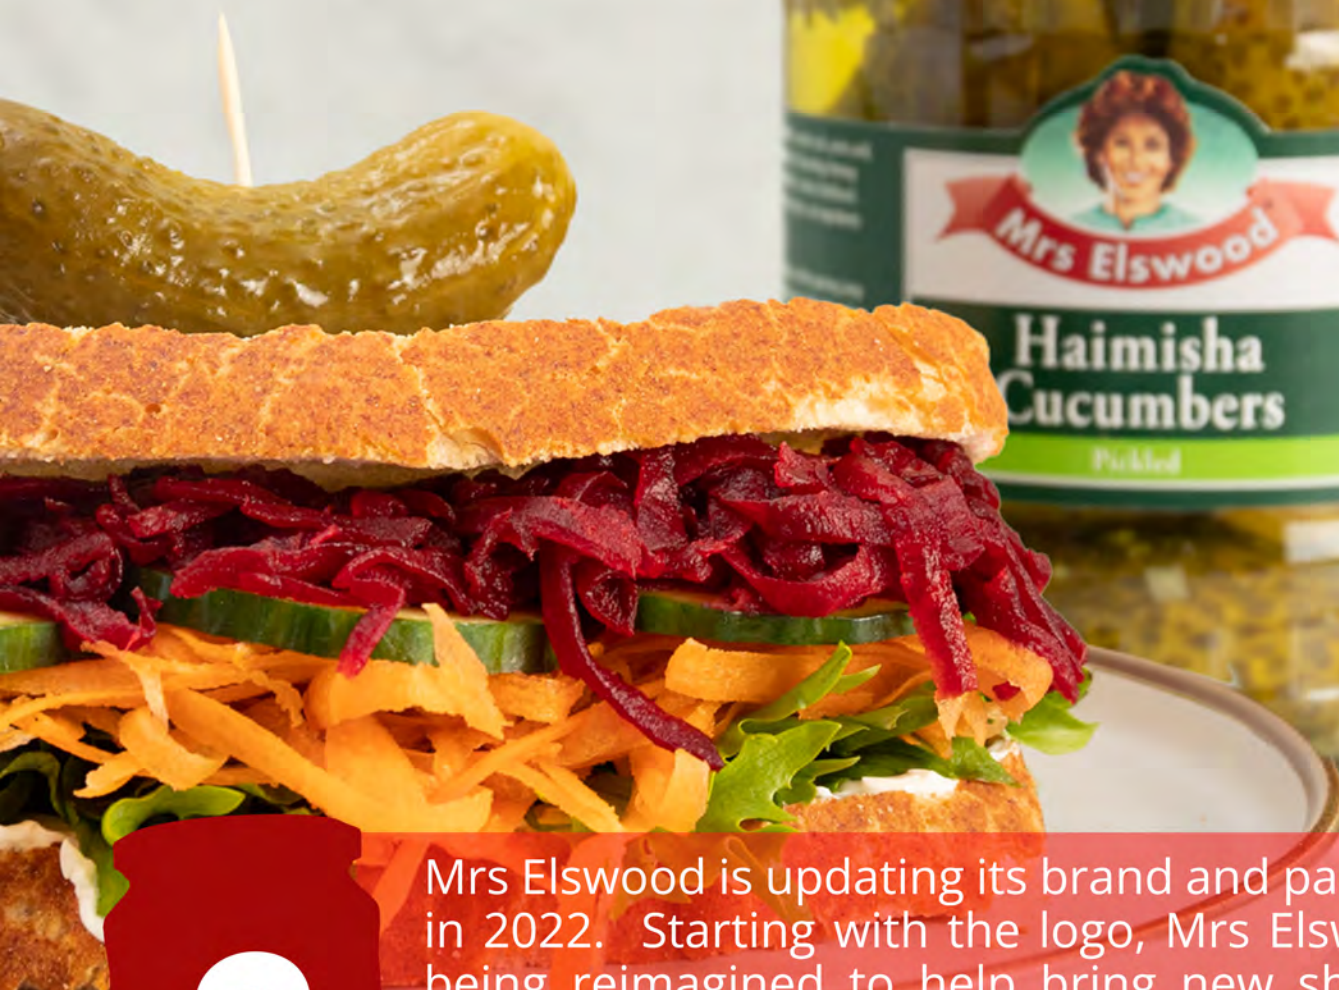

We know shoppers appreciate the versatility of the humble gherkin. Whether looking to brighten up a burger, spice up a salad or perk up a platter – Mrs Elswood brings life to whatever it accompanies.

Shoppers are increasingly interested in pickled and fermented products, a trend which continues to gather momentum. Data from Kantar (2021) showed it is Mrs Elswood who is driving growth within the gherkin category, and it is gherkins that are driving growth within total pickles.

Inspired by this renewed interest in pickles, Mrs Elswood is updating its brand and packaging in 2022. Look out for new designs in summer, when the fresh new season gherkins hit the shelves.
